NOW THEY ARE MARRIED.

MRS. FRANCES FOLSOM BECOMES THE FIRST LADY IN THE LAND.

The Pontifical Wedding at the White House a Quiet but Brilliant Event—Distinguished Guests, Very Costly Presents, and Floral Decorations of the Greatest Magnificence—The President and His Bride to Go to New York to Spend Their Honeymoon—An Account in Detail.

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 2.—[Special.]—The ten an every and interest at the wedding of Executive had centered there—in every way fitted to be the last key to a pair of the events and gayest note. To say the events was was little to say. Grover Cleveland and Frances Folsom were man and wife.

At exactly 7 o'clock this evening, to the Blue Room of the White House, the fair, intelligent, prosperous, simple and unpretentious daughter to the presence of the assembled guests. There were there the friends, mother of the bride, and Mr. Benjamin Folsom, of Buffalo; Mrs. Rose Cleveland, Mrs. Hoyt, and the Rev. William Cleveland, sister and brother of the groom; the Secretary of the Treasury and Mrs. Manning; Secretary Bayard, the Secretary of War and Mrs. Endicott; the Postmaster-General and Mrs. Vilas; Secretary Lamar; Private Secretary and Mrs. Dickinson; Lawyer Wilson S. Bissell, of Buffalo; Mr. and Mrs. Rogers, of Grand Falls, N. Y.; Mrs. Joslin, Miss Cleveland's guest; Mr. and Mrs. Parsons, of Boston; Miss Hutchinson and Mrs. Lamont, of Detroit, and Mrs. Hazenhurst.

Attorney-General Garland was the only member of the Cabinet who did not accept the President's invitation.

Shortly before the hour named the Cabinet officers and their wives, who were the sole guests besides the members of the immediate family of the contracting parties, who were already gathered, began to arrive, the carriages driving rapidly up to the rear of the mansion, where an entrance was made from the portico through the window of the first floor, in accordance with the plan recently adopted on all large entertainments. After laying aside their wraps in the dressing-room the guests passed down the corridor to the Blue Room, where Miss Cleveland and Mrs. Hoyt advanced to receive them. Mr. Wilson Bissell, Mrs. Folsom, Mr. Benjamin Folsom, the Rev. Dr. Cleveland, and the Rev. Dr. Sunderland, together with the five officers of the bride, were already assembled. After an exchange of greetings the company broke up into little groups, chatting and laughing in pleasant fashion.

At 7 o'clock precisely the Marine band struck up Mendelssohn's wedding march, and all eyes turned in the direction whence the President Cleveland appeared with his accomplished friend upon his arm. As they approached, Parson Sunderland and Cleveland advanced to meet them, and after a bouquet of flowers Dr. Sunderland requested the groom to take the right hand of his bride. There is a custom here not with a difference whenever the doors begin the steps and beautiful marriage service.

Following the company, Dr. Sunderland said: "Marriage is honorable among all men." to that a man shall cleave unto his wife and they shall be one flesh. It was instituted by God Himself in the time of man's innocence; it was confirmed by personal and public example of the Saviour; it was declared by the Apostle to be honorable among all men, and is commended to the solemn, serious, and deliberate minds of all persons who enter into it. Into this honorable estate these two persons present come now to be joined. If any man can show just cause why they may not lawfully be united in marriage let him now speak, or else hereafter forever hold his peace."

To the bride and groom: "I charge you as you intend to marriage vow until death shall part you, that you do not enter into this holy estate unadvisedly or lightly, but reverently, discreetly, advisedly, soberly, and in the fear of God. Have also duly considered the cause for which matrimony was ordained. If any man can show any just cause why they may not be lawfully joined together let him now speak, or else hereafter forever hold his peace."

To the bride and groom: "I require and charge you as you will answer at the dreadful day of judgment when the secrets of all hearts shall be disclosed, that if either of you know any impediment why you may not be lawfully joined together in matrimony you do confess it."

To the groom: "Wilt thou have this woman to thy wedded wife, to live together after God's ordinance in the holy estate of matrimony? Wilt thou promise to love her, comfort, honor, and keep her in sickness and in health, to forsake all others, keep thee only unto her so long as you both shall live?"

The groom (firmly): "I will."

To the bride: "Wilt thou have this man to thy wedded husband, to live together after God's ordinance in the holy estate of matrimony? Wilt thou promise to love him, honor, comfort, and keep him in sickness and in health, to forsake all others, keep thee only unto him so long as you both shall live?"

The bride responded in a low, but clear voice: "I will."

Dr. Sunderland (gravely): "Forasmuch as Grover and Frances have both agreed and consented to be together after God's ordinance in the holy estate of matrimony, and have witnessed the same before God and this company, and thereto given and pledged their troth each to the other, and have declared the same by giving and taking a ring, by these tokens, to the power of the Holy Spirit, and of the Holy God, I pronounce and declare that they are husband and wife—those whom God hath joined together let no man put asunder."

The reverend Dr. Cleveland then pronounced the following benediction: "God the Father, God the Son, and God the Holy Ghost bless, preserve, and keep you—the Lord mercifully to you with all spiritual blessings, and grant that you may so live together in this world that in the world to come you may have life everlasting. Amen."

Dr. Sunderland (impressively) pronounced that you are husband and wife.

At the conclusion of the benediction Miss Cleveland advanced and, congratulating her sister, turned to salute the bride's husband. She was very quickly followed by the President's mother and Mrs. Hoyt, and the ceremony which the President accorded his wife, but before being the wife of

The table was adorned with a profusion of the choicest flowers, and was presided over by the President and Mrs. Cleveland, the former occupying the seat at the head of the table, and the latter that at the foot. ## LOOK OUT FOR HIM.

Information has been received at this office that a person of the name of J. L. Potter Jr. has borrowed money from several persons in Cincinnati, falsely representing that he is an employé of THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE. The fact is a fraud and a deadbeat. For the CINCINNATI TIMES we must warn the public against loaning money to any person whatsoever representing himself as connected with THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE. Cases of counterfeiting checks in our name or of swindling merchants on account of orders from strangers in search of matter from THE TRIBUNE are frequent of late years.

GRANT'S CIVIL CAREER.

THE TRIBUNE will publish the first of a series of articles on Gen. Grant's military career and life as a private citizen, written for the author of his military history, Gen. John Badeau. The New York Tribune, announcing this information, says:

These articles are not intended to form a connected narrative, but to illustrate various striking events, scenes, passages, and characteristics in regard to which Gen. Badeau—who is excellent more familiar with the mine of personal history than almost any other man now living—can offer peculiar testimony. Every article will contain a hitherto unpublished letter or document of historical interest, which the TRIBUNE will also print in facsimile if adapted to reproduction in that form.

The first installment of Gen. Badeau's interesting series will appear in THE TRIBUNE next Sunday. The first article will be entitled "Grant and the Fredericksburg Campaign," and will contain a letter from Gen. Grant to Gen. Halleck, written from the battle-field of Fredericksburg, which has never been published.

MR. AND MRS. BANCROFT will leave June 17 for Europe, to be absent for several months. The Brooklyn divine will return with abroad.

THE House Public Buildings Committee will report favorably on the measure authorizing the Union Pacific Company to construct branch lines.

JUDGE H. CLAYTON has sent to the Chicago Cottage Organ Company a deed of land on Twenty-second street, between Paulina and Wood, for $100,000.

THE money market was barely steady. Sterling bills were unchanged. The demand for investment securities was small. The New York stock market was fairly active and lower.—The Chicago wheat market was active and unusually strong. It advanced as much as 2½ cents per bushel, to 77¾ cents for July, with active buying for Eastern account. All recently have persistent bears; and others joined in on the belief that the market has gone its lowest point. Other produce was firmer in sympathy, but quiet. The receipts of grain were large, but that had been expected. As compared with Tuesday last closed 1½@2 cents higher, but 2½ cents higher, month 2¾ cents higher, wheat nearly 3 cents higher, corn ¾ cents higher, oats ¾ cent higher, rye fully ½ cent lower, barley 2 cents lower, and flaxseed five.

It is stated that the Paterites will try to prolong the debate on the Rose-Yale bill for several days in order to give Gladstone time to better his position.

THE United Presbyterian Assembly, in session at Hamilton, O., settled a long-standing fight by voting in favor of instrumental music in church worship.

THE body of G. H. Rock, which was to have been cremated, has been cut in a vault in a cemetery near New York City until the life-insurance claims of $50,000 are adjusted.

GROVER CLEVELAND, President of the United States, and MISS FRANCES FOLSOM were married at the White House shortly after 7 o'clock last evening. The Rev. DR. HARRIMAN read the simple and beautiful Presbyterian wedding service, the groom making his response in a firm tone and the bride replying in a low but clear voice. The Rev. William Cleveland, the President's brother, pronounced the benediction. MRS. FOLSOM, viewing tears of deep emotion, was the first to congratulate the newly-married pair, being followed by MRS. CLEVELAND, the Rev. William Cleveland, and the other relatives and friends in turn. Soon after the wedding the bridal party left for Deer Park, MD., on a special train.

HOSTILITY TO ENGLAND.

MR. BLAINE'S address to the home-rule meeting at Portland, Me., Tuesday evening, is the silent exposition of the Irish question made by any American public man since the commencement of the agitation in America concerning it. The speech was comprehensive in scope, sufficiently full in detail for all purposes, and happy in illustration and association. The solution suggested, while not exactly the one proposed by Mr. Gladstone's bill, is the one which, as the events of the last three or four days seem to indicate, will most probably be adopted in the end. An arrangement can and will be made to "let Ireland be governed as she desires to be governed," provided that are Irish be settled by Irishmen, questions that are English be settled by Englishmen, questions that are Welsh be settled by Welshmen, and questions that are Scotch be settled by Scotchmen."

Whatever the fate of Mr. Gladstone's bill—and it seems to be doomed to defeat—Ireland must be granted self-government in some form. As Mr. BLAINE has pointed out, Lord Hartington's accusation of Mr. Gladstone for having introduced his measure in an attempt that Ireland cannot now be expected to take less than that measure would console. The entitlement "will never be made on as easy terms as Mr. Gladstone now offers." The opponents of the measure "cannot defend the public opinion of the civilized world."

MR. BLAINE was very happy in his argument as to the right of America to pronounce on this international difficulty. England should be the last to complain on this score:

But next after that of Ireland comes the deep and great hatred now latent in the people of the United States for the only power on this continent which has ever attempted to overthrow our republican institutions. The feeling of hostility and sometimes the burning hatred of struggling nationalities that existed in the days of the Holy Alliance, to get from Europe a strong word from Greece, from Hungary, from Poland, from Italy, from Germany, was as much a part of the life of England as of the life of France. Lafayette was as much in favor in England as in France. Kossuth was received in the north side of the Tweed as in the south side. Even the Emperor Napoleon found sympathy for his coup d'état among many leading statesmen and writers in England. The people of the United States, however, remember that not one word was uttered in Parliament and not one voice was heard from the throne in condemnation of the attempt to overthrow the republic of France. ## THE NEWS FROM ABROAD.

GLADSTONE GOING TO PREVENT A DISSOLUTION OF PARLIAMENT.

He Resigns in Order to Accomplish His Object—A Motion on the Home-Rule Bill Likely to Be Entered a Few Days Hence—Chamberlain's Opponents Want to Begin It at Once—Churchill's Talk—The Expulsion of the French Princes—A General Budget by Cable.

LONDON, June 2.—[By Atlantic Cable.] In the Parliamentary situation but little change has taken place during the past twenty-four hours, but it is probable due to the Premier's persistent endeavor to accomplish the end he desires. The move of the Government to postpone a resolution until autumn was to have the election for another Parliament take place under the new Registration Act has been understood for a long time, but the fact was not generally known until this article and numerous hints to the Unionist party that the delay has taken effect from, and that he intends to accordingly resign to bring about a dissolution. This is due to the hopelessness of getting the Home-Rule bill past the second reading on the election is now viewed by the Ministry and Mr. Gladstone may be equal to any emergency. This is extremely doubtful, however, and both sides are preparing for an immediate election. The committee which drew up the plan of campaign, which has been assented to by the Unionists, is the most powerful organization in the country. Although the Conservatives have issued nothing it is not possible that a contest will not take place during the present month

If the Council allows the North Side Street Railway Company to use cables, as it doubtless will, the work of putting them in will be done without any delay to travel. Instead of tearing up a whole street at once the east or west track for one block will be shifted a few feet and the space it once occupied will be excavated. When the engine is over the track will be put back and the next block will be dealt with in the same way. Thus the cars will be running at the time on both tracks if the cables are put in, which they will be as soon as permit the good.

Mr. H. Davis Hatchell, a young lawyer of Paris, Ky., went out on the late Sunday afternoon alone, in a small skiff, and has not been heard of since. He was last seen inside the breakwater at 7 o'clock Sunday evening, and was overdue. Tuesday morning he had not been found when from there to a point north. When the boat was found it was partially up and only a breath of days was in the bottom. His overcoat, which he had taken with him, was found. Mr. Hatchell was 30 years of age, had been married only two months, and both he and wife were highly connected and much liked.

A Milwaukee Astonishment's Creation.

Friday last John C. Hirsch, living at No. 439 West Fourteenth street, and Minnie Gardner, living at No. 439 South Union street, were arrested, taken to the Twelfth Street Station, and locked up pending money to take possession. The complainant was John Pratt, a Milwaukee astonishment at No. 439 South Union street, who said they had offered to procure a postponement of the payment of the license until Court if he gave them $10. He said he gave them $5, and when the two called for the fourth they were arrested. When the girls were arraigned in court the next day Pratt was absent, and the case was continued at the desire of Chief Hubbard's partner. Capt. O'Donnell, being sure Pratt had been induced not to prosecute, had the arrested, and the astonishment discharged, confident that a prize would never appear. Hirsch had given the $5 to keep out of the way. The next the Hirsch was arrested and his case continued to $100 bail at Wednesday court on the charge of causing a witness to abscond. When the name of Hirsch and Gardner were called they took a change of venue to Justice Potter. Hirsch had a license to operate an Union Harmony's staff until Tuesday last, when his astonishment lay due as an astonishment that he had neglect. Justice is a special privilege granted to the Department of Public Works. The astonishment the official star and act to principal duty was to act as evasion to the old building and point out to return the others they desire to run. The cop acted at the. Pratt astonished the deputy at length, and accused Hirsch of having to him to the amount, and Gardner of the fourth.
